CHALLENGE.

Loyola University is a Jesuit university founded by the Society of Jesus and chartered on April 15, 1912 with ownership vested in the Loyola community of Jesuit fathers.

The School of Law was founded in October 1914. The Honorable John St. Paul, Judge of the Court of Appeal for the Parish of Orleans and later an Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, was the first dean serving until 1918. The first year classes were held in downtown New Orleans in the evening only.

Today, the Loyola School of Law operates both a day program for full-time students and an evening program for part-time students. The day program offers curricula in civil law for students who will practice law in Louisiana and in common law for students who will practice elsewhere. The evening program offers only the civil law curriculum.

The Loyola School of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools and is approved by the American Bar Association. It is also approved by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York.

All educational programs and activities are open to all qualified persons without regard to race, color, creed, national origin, or sex in the true spirit of Christian love and charity and the Jesuit commitment to social justice.

Loyola is a medium-sized university with a total enrollment of nearly 4,300 students made up of approximately 3,200 undergraduates, 300 graduates, and 750 law school students.

The faculty numbers 302 including 24 Jesuits or other religious who teach. The law faculty numbers 22 full-time members and 17 part-time members.

The geographical diversification of Loyola's general student body is good. Nearly a quarter of the students permanently reside outside Louisiana and represent 48 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and 20 foreign countries. Students also represent a wide range of social and economic backgrounds. The law school's day program is made up of students from 30 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

The campus is located in a residential area of New Orleans known as the university section because Loyola, Tulane University and St. Mary's Dominican College are located within a few blocks of each other.

Fronting on tree-lined St. Charles Avenue where streetcars are the mode of public transportation, Loyola faces Audubon Park directly across the avenue. The 19-acre campus is a collection of beautiful Tutor-Gothic buildings and good modern architecture.

PURPOSE

Because law is concerned with man and society, a philosophy of law has meaning in the exact degree to which it reflects a valid philosophy of man and society. It is the contention of Loyola University's School of Law that there is only one valid view of man, a view which considers man a creature of God, and man's creation by God as the source of the dignity of man, the supreme value of the individual, the sanctity of the human person, and of inalienable rights. A denial of this basic idea is tantamount to reducing man to the level of a highly developed animal and of founding the ultimate ratio of law on physical force — the germinal idea of all totalitarian systems of government. The acceptance of man as a creature of God destined for life beyond the grave is the corner stone upon which Loyola builds its philosophy of law. Man, endowed as he is with intellect and free will, is to be directed not by the physical law of lesser creatures, but by the objective moral law to which he is bound in conscience.

The principles defining what is morally good and morally bad in human activity are grounded in the natural law as the expression in rational nature of God's design for man. In virtue of the natural law man is vested with certain rights and obligations. These rights and obligations are every man's endowment in virtue of his very nature; they transcend both the individual and the social and political order. It is the high purpose of human law to protect the right of each by assuring the reign of justice for all. Therefore, human law cannot be exempted from the directive influence of the natural law without in varying degree exposing the juridical process to the arbitrary will of men — this is the sole basis of a just and sound legal system. Thus human law is valid law only to the extent that it reflects directly or indirectly the dictates of the natural law.

It must be noted, however, that while in its principles the natural law is inflexible and absolute, the applications of these principles can and do vary according to the concrete circumstances of time and place. It is for this reason that Loyola's School of Law accepts without qualification the following observation of Rev. William J. Kenealy, S.J., former dean of the Boston College School of Law: [from The Majesty of the Law, 5 Loyola L. Rev. 101, 114 (1950)]

"The construction and maintenance of a corpus juris implementing the natural law is a perpetual and monumental task demanding the constant devotion of the best brains and the most mature scholarship of the legal profession. For the fundamental principles of the natural law, universal and immutable as the human nature from which they derive, require rational application to the constantly changing political, economic and social conditions of civil society. The application of the natural law postulates change as the circumstances of human existence change. It repudiates a naive and smug complacency in the status quo. It demands a reasoned acceptance of the good, and a rejection of the bad, in all that is new. It commands a critical search for the better. It directs an exhaustive search into all the available data of history, politics, economics, sociology, psychology, philosophy and every other pertinent font of human knowledge. And, of primary importance, it insists that the constant search for a better corpus juris be made in the light of the origin, nature, purpose and limitations of the state; and in the knowledge of the origin, nature, dignity and destiny of man. This traditional American philosophy of law is opposed today, even within the legal profession, by the philosophies of positivism, pragmatism, realism and utilitarianism — all of which have an ideological common denominator in subjectivism, and none of which can offer an adequate reply to the destructive philosophy of totalitarianism."

The members of the faculty in the School of Law are deeply conscious of their responsibility to the student body. They are vitally aware that the profession demands very much more from a lawyer than mere legal learning.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

Starting with the spring semester of 1979, Loyola will implement a new comprehensive computer based student record system. As a result, many procedures and policies will change. Students who attend prior to and after the spring semester of 1979 will have two transcripts that will have different appearances and form but will remain identical in content. At the same time, a new course numbering system will be implemented. For this reason, two course numbers appear in the University's Bulletins for 1979-80.

The requirement for the degree of juris doctor is 90 semester credit hours of work earned in the School of Law extended over at least three academic years.

Students who may wish to be admitted to practice in a state other than Louisiana should write to the Clerk of the Supreme Court or the secretary of the Bar in such state on or before registration in the first year class with regard to special rules for qualification for admission to practice in that state.

FULL-TIME CURRICULUM

The full-time day program offers two curricula leading to the juris doctor degree; one in the tradition of the civil law for Louisiana students; one in the general common law for those students who will practice elsewhere.

The curriculum for full-time students covers a period of six semesters of resident study. Resident study requires that the student carry not less than 10 semester hours a semester and pass a minimum of nine.

The following curriculum table gives the required courses and indicates elective hours for full-time students in both civil and common law programs. Those courses for students in the common law program are set in italics following the civil law course for which it substitutes.

ELECTIVES

In order to provide students with a greater degree of predictability in regard to the scheduling of courses, the electives offered in the Law School are divided into three categories.

CATEGORY I consists of those courses which the Law School will make every effort to offer every year. Insufficient faculty manpower or extraordinary circumstances may make it impossible to adhere to this plan, but whenever there is a conflict, these courses will be given first consideration.

CATEGORY II consists of those courses the Law School will attempt to offer every other year. The same caveat applies as in Category I.

CATEGORY III consists of those courses which will be offered whenever student interest and faculty availability permit. Student interest will be consulted in determining which of these courses will be offered in any given semester. Courses in category III will be offered only when arrangements have been made to offer those in the first two groups. They may, however, be offered frequently, even yearly, if student interest and faculty availability permit.

ADMISSION

Applicants beginning the study of law as degree seeking students will be admitted only in the fall semester.

Both the Louisiana civil law curriculum and the general common law curriculum are available in the full-time day program. Applications for this program must be submitted prior to April 1st. Only the Louisiana civil law curriculum is available in the part-time evening program. Applications for this program must be submitted prior to May 1st. All files must be completed prior to June 15th. Applicants are urged, however, to complete their files far in advance of this date as those completed late in the application year are subject to delay in review.

Applicants selected must furnish a photograph, passport size, prior to registration. All transcripts and documents submitted become the property of the university.

Applicants who have attended another law school, and who have been excluded for defective scholarship, or who are on scholastic probation, are not eligible for admission to this School of Law.

Students in good standing at an approved law school (one that is a member of the Association of American Law Schools or approved by the American Bar Association) may enroll as transient students with the permission of the dean. Members of the Bar may be admitted as non-degree seeking students and register for courses on an audit basis.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants to the School of Law must present satisfactory evidence that they have earned an undergraduate degree. In certain cases, applicants possessing an exceptional record may be considered for admission by presenting satisfactory evidence that they have completed a minimum of three-fourths of the requirements for an undergraduate degree. Applicants are in competition with one another under a rolling admissions system on the basis of undergraduate grade point average and Law School Admission Test (LSAT) score.

For a profile of entrance credentials of the most recent entering class (both undergraduate grade point average and LSAT score), applicants are advised to read the Pre-Law Handbook published by the Educational Testing Service in conjunction with the Association of American Law Schools.

Applications to take the LSAT must be made directly to the Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 944R, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. No application will be considered unless the score obtained has been submitted. The score attained on this test must complement the undergraduate record sufficiently to indicate the applicant's ability to complete successfully work undertaken in the School of Law.

Applications for the test must be post marked at least 30 days prior to the administration date. Information concerning late registration, as well as a list of the test centers and the dates on which each will be used, is contained in the LSAT informational brochure. Applicants should arrange to take the test as early as possible — preferably no later than February.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Applicants for admission to the freshman class of the School of Law must:

1. Execute an application form obtained from the School of Law and file it, together with an application fee of $20.00 payable to Loyola University, with the assistant dean for admissions, School of Law.

2. Register with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS). A transcript from each college or university attended (a cumulative transcript from the last school attended will not suffice) should then be sent directly to: LSAT/LSDAS, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 944R, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

The LSDAS will analyze all transcripts submitted and will send a complete report as well as a copy of each transcript submitted to the Loyola University School of Law.

Registration forms for the LSAT and LSDAS are contained within the LSAT information brochure which may be obtained from the Educational Testing Service.

Upon acceptance, applicants will then be asked to submit a final transcript, showing the award of a bachelor's degree or completion of 96 hours in courses having substantial intellectual content, directly to this law school. If undergraduate or graduate work has been taken in more than one college or university, the accepted applicants must arrange to have original transcripts sent from all institutions attended regardless of credit earned.

All students entering Loyola University for the first time must have the student affairs office at the last attended university complete a Request for Personal Information form. Its submission is a prerequisite to registration. All new students must also complete a Medical History Questionnaire, the results of which must be on file in the Student Health Services office prior to registration.

TRANSFER APPLICANTS

A limited number of applicants who have successfully pursued a portion of their law studies in an approved law school may be accepted as students with advanced standing.

Transfer applicants must present evidence of eligibility required of entering students the year in which they began the study of law. They must also present evidence of above average academic study in their prior law record. The right is reserved to refuse such credit in whole or in part. At a minimum, one year's residence (30 semester hours) in the Loyola University School of Law is required of transfer students in order that they may be eligible for a degree.

READMISSION

An excluded student may petition the faculty for readmission to the School of Law. Such a petition for readmission may be granted only if, in the judgment of the faculty:

1. the excluded student is in substantial compliance with the academic standards of the School of Law and has demonstrated that he or she will very likely be able to complete satisfactorily all requirements leading to a juris doctor degree; or
2. because of an unusual hardship, the academic record earned by the student in one or more semesters while enrolled in the School of Law was not indicative of his ability to satisfactorily complete the requirements leading to a juris doctor degree and that the hardship is not likely to reoccur if the student is readmitted.

A student whose petition for readmission to the School of Law has been denied by the faculty may not petition again for readmission until two years have passed since his or her last enrollment or petition for readmission. Any petition for readmission made at that time will be for admission as a beginning student with no academic credit for prior work attempted. Such a petition may be granted only if, in the judgment of the faculty, the excluded student has demonstrated that he or she possesses the ability to successfully complete a course of law study and has pursued activities since exclusion from the School of Law that indicate his or her ability and determination to successfully complete the requirements for a juris doctor degree.

ACADEMIC REGULATIONS

HONOR CODE

Students in the Loyola School of Law are governed by an honor code. An elected student committee acts as a fact finding committee for the honor code. The committee reviews complaints and accords a hearing. If the complaint is found to be substantial and if the complaint is sustained, the student may appeal to the dean.

COURSE LOAD

Full-time students will not be permitted to schedule more than 16 hours of law work in any semester without special permission from the dean of the School of Law. However, a student who is registered for a full schedule in either program may audit any course he has not scheduled. He should receive permission of the faculty member offering the course. Full-time upperclassmen will not be permitted to schedule less than 10 hours of law work in any one semester. Freshmen must schedule 16 hours.

Part-time students will not be permitted to schedule more than 11 hours of law work in any one semester. Part-time upperclassmen will not be permitted to schedule less than eight hours each semester unless it is impossible for him to choose that many from the courses that are offered. Freshmen must schedule 11 hours. Part-time students must complete their requirements in five calendar years.

Students registered in the School of Law will not be permitted to register for courses in any other school without special permission from the dean of the School of Law. Permission will be granted only to upperclassmen in special instances. Even in those instances no one will be permitted to take more than three hours of work in another school while he is enrolled in the School of Law.

PRE-REGISTRATION

Loyola students enrolled in one term may pre-register for the next term. New admits, transient students, and Loyola students who complete a degree program in a given term are not eligible for pre-registration. Pre-registration is usually held in April and November. Approximately 70 percent of the students who pre-register receive every course requested. Requests for courses are processed on a first-come, first-serve basis within classifications; therefore, all seniors receive the highest priority, then juniors, etc. A student's earned hours at the time of pre-registration are used to determine classifications.

Students who pre-register are required to confirm their registration. As a result, these students are billed for tuition and fees. Students who fail to confirm their registration are not billed and their registrations are cancelled. Students with unpaid financial obligations to the university may not pre-register until such obligations have been satisfied.

REGISTRATION

All those admitted to the university should attend registration at the scheduled hours during their authorized admit term. Degree and non-degree seeking students in the preceding term (excluding summer) are eligible to register if they did not pre-register. Students who pre-registered are eligible to drop or add courses at registration. Students with unpaid financial obligations to the university may not register until such obligations have been satisfied. Students who pre-register do not have to attend registration.

LATE REGISTRATION

Late registration is held the first two working days after registration. A late registration fee is assessed to cover the additional administrative costs and, at the discretion of the Student Finance Office, a student may be required to pay tuition in full. Students with unpaid financial obligations with the university may not register until such obligations have been satisfied.

DROP/ADD PERIOD

For five working days following the last day of registration, students are permitted to drop and add courses. A $10 per transaction drop/add fee is charged to cover the administrative costs so that the financial burden of this option will not have to be passed on to the student population at large. Because of external and internal reportings on enrollments, deadlines for drop/add activity must be strictly enforced.

WITHDRAWAL FROM A COURSE

With the permission of the dean, students may withdraw from an elective course up to the last class day before examinations. Subsequent to the date for the last day to drop a course a student will not be permitted to withdraw from a scheduled course.

CLASSIFICATION

Degree seeking students are admitted to a degree program and classified as follows:

Total Earned Hours		Total Earned Hours
Freshmen		Juniors
Day Program	0-32	Day Program	33-60
Evening Program	0-21	Evening Program	41-69
Sophomore		Senior
Evening Program	22-40	Day Program	61-90 70-90

ATTENDANCE

Regular and punctual attendance is required. No student will be given credit for work done in any course in which he has failed to attend at least 75 per cent of the scheduled classes. Excess absences will be recorded with a grade WF. For purposes of determining student averages this will be considered as an F and as a failure to complete the course.

EXAMINATIONS AND GRADES

Examinations are given at the end of each semester. The alphabetical system of grading is used. The quality of work indicated by these grades is as follows:

Grade	Quality of Work
A	Excellent
B+ and B	Good
C+ and C	Satisfactory
D+ and D	Unsatisfactory
F	Failure
Other grades that may be given are:
AF	Absent from Examination
AU	Audit
AI	Audit Incomplete
WF	Excess absences
W	Withdrew from course
I	Incomplete
IP	In Progress
UW	Unauthorized Withdrawal

In the case of a student who fails to appear for an examination without officially withdrawing the following action will be taken:

1. Upon timely petition addressed to the faculty, the student may when he presents evidence of sufficient cause, such as, personal illness, death in his immediate family or detention out of town by a failure in transportation facilities, be permitted to take a deferred examination. The record of the student will list the course(s) as "Incomplete." Such examination shall normally be completed the next time the students are examined in the course.
2. In all other cases the record will be marked AF. This grade will be considered as an F in determining student averages and will indicate nonattempt of the examination for required course purposes.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE

A student's grade point average is based on the credit hours, grading method, and grade awarded. The following definitions apply:

CREDIT HOURS are the units associated with each course. Each degree program requires that a student acquire a specific number of credit hours. Typically, a three credit hour course meets for a total of 150 minutes a week.

QUALITY HOURS are the units upon which a student's grade point average is calculated. Quality hours differ from credit hours because the former excludes pass/fail, non-graded courses, etc.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE is the quality hours multiplied by the quality points of the grade awarded. A student's grade point average is based solely on Loyola University Law School coursework. Grades associated with transfer coursework are not applied to Loyola's grade point average.

TOTAL EARNED HOURS is the credit hours earned at Loyola plus the hours awarded by Loyola for coursework taken at other universities.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible for graduation a student must earn 90 credit hours, have a minimum grade point average of 2.0 on all work attempted, complete the required courses, and complete the period of resident study extending over a minimum of three academic years.

Quality points are earned according to the following schedule:

Grade	Quality Points
A.....	4.0
B+	3.5
B.....	3.0
C+	2.5
C.....	2.0
D+	1.5

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

It is expected that a student should do satisfactory work and should therefore have a minimum average of 2.0 at all times.

Students who began the study of law in 1976 or thereafter and have failed a required course will have to repeat the course. Other students who have failed a required course may repeat the course. Both grades will be posted on their transcripts.

SCHOLASTIC PROBATION

A student will be on scholastic probation at any time his overall average is less than 2.0. Students on scholastic probation may not hold office or otherwise participate in formal extracurricular activities of the School of Law.

EXCLUSIONS

A student will be automatically excluded from the School of Law if:

1. at any time after attempting 18 semester hours of law school work the student's overall average is less than 2.0;
2. at any time after attempting four semesters, full-or part-time, of law school work the student's overall average is less than 2.0 providing the student has been on academic probation for the semester immediately preceding exclusion and;
3. at any time while on scholastic probation the student earns a semester grade point average of 2.0 or less for the semester.

WITHDRAWAL FROM UNIVERSITY

A student may withdraw from the School of Law at any time prior to the examination period. Notice of withdrawal must be given in writing and it is not effective until all forms have been completed and returned to the registrar. A student who withdraws from the university before taking the final examinations forfeits all credit for work done in that semester. The effect of withdrawal from the university on the student's right to re-admission depends upon his scholastic record at the time of withdrawal. A student who contemplates withdrawal should determine its effect through consultation with the dean of the law school prior to taking such action.

To withdraw officially from the university a student must:

1. Obtain withdrawal forms from the Office of the Registrar.
2. Obtain signatures of designated officials on withdrawal forms. (These forms will not be signed until the student has cleared all obligations to the university.)
3. Resident students must officially withdraw by obtaining clearance through the housing office.

Withdrawal is not complete or official until all signatures have been obtained and forms are returned to the Office of the Registrar.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students enrolled in one term may apply to their dean for a leave of absence either for the next term or academic year. Students returning from a leave of absence are subject to the policies of the most current bulletin.

CHANGE OF COLLEGE CONCENTRATION

Students may request a change in concentration (civil or common law) by completing the appropriate form and submitting the form to the dean's office. The petition may be made at any time and takes effect in the next term.

TRANSCRIPTS

Loyola is authorized to distribute only Loyola transcripts, not transcripts from other universities. Students may have three records at Loyola which comprise the official transcript: undergraduate, graduate, and law. Upon a student's request, all official transcripts are sent by the registrar's office to other organizations. Unofficial transcripts marked, "Official Transcript Issued to the Student," are given by the registrar's office to students. In accordance with recommendations of the American Association of College Registrars and Admissions Officers, official transcripts issued to students should not be treated as an official academic credential. Transcripts, as opposed to degrees, carry notations identifying concentrations. Probation and academic dismissal are indicated on the transcript for students placed in this status.

SUMMER SCHOOL

A limited number of courses are offered each summer in a 10-week session. Schedules are available in the spring.

RESOURCES

LAW LIBRARY

The Loyola Law Library is a repository of substantial research materials for the law student. Its approximately 80,000 volumes include reports of all federal courts and of all final and most intermediate appellate courts of the 50 States, as well as reports of England and France. The complete National Reporter System and the various annotated reporters are also available, as are annotated statutes of the United States, and publications of administrative agencies.

Holdings also include the American Digest System, Legal Encyclopedias, leading state, federal and English digests, the leading legal periodicals and indices, a representative collection of texts and treatises in law and allied fields. The law library is a depository of selected United States and State of Louisiana documents. The general university library is conveniently located adjacent to the School of Law.

The law library of Chief Justice Edward Douglass White, which was donated to the School of Law, together with gifts from other donors, form a part of the collection.

In addition to the general law collection, the library maintains a special civil law collection containing one of the most complete groups of French authorities in the state, together with Roman, Spanish, Swiss, and other national legal literature. Other units are a valuable collection of editions of Louisiana codes and an international law section enriched by having been a depository of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

LAW REVIEW

The faculty and students of the School of Law publish the Loyola Law Review. A student board of editors, chosen from seniors who have published in the Law Review, invite outstanding students at the end of their first year of law school to participate in a program of legal research and writing leading to publication of the Law Review. Articles are contributed by law teachers and attorneys, but most of the published material is written and edited by Loyola law students.

EDWARD RIGHTOR LECTURE

The Grand Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the United States of America has established and funded a foundation to provide funds for periodic lectures in the School of Law in memory of Edward Rightor. Mr. Rightor was a past exalted ruler of the Grand Lodge and for many years was a member of the part-time teaching staff of the School of Law.

LAW CLINIC

The Loyola Law Clinic, established under special rules adopted by the Supreme Court of the State of Louisiana, provides senior law students an opportunity to gain practical experience in both criminal and civil law. Forty students participate, receiving a total of six hours credit for their two semesters of work in the program. Thirty students are assigned to defense cases in the clinic, handling both criminal and civil cases under the supervision of two attorneys. Ten students are assigned to the District Attorney's Office where they prosecute misdemeanor cases under the supervision of the district attorney. Students are selected for the program on the basis of a written application, which includes information on grades and prior experience, at the end of their junior year of law study. The clinic combines seminars with practical trial experience, allowing senior law students to handle all phases of a case as a practicing attorney would.

MOOT COURT

Moot court, a comprehensive program in which students are given an opportunity to participate in intercollegiate moot court competition, offers training in the arts of oral advocacy and the skills of brief writing.

A moot court board, composed of three senior law students with prior national or international moot court experience or participation in the Appellate Argument Seminar, is responsible for the organization, administration, and selection of members of the national and international moot court teams who compete with other law schools in the region and nationwide.

Selection for the positions on the teams is made on a competitive basis, with each participant graded individually on each appearance before a bench of judges. Eliminations are made and selection based on those grades.

In the past, Loyola University School of Law teams have won regional competitions as well as the 1974 National Moot Court competition.

PHYSICAL FACILITIES

The Branch Knox Miller Memorial Building houses the School of Law. It was built in 1973 from gifts from law alumni and friends, with assistance from a federal subsidy and revenue from university investments. Miller Hall was built especially for students engaged in law studies. The three-story school section of the building houses six lecture rooms, two seminar rooms, a moot court room, a student lounge, a conference room, faculty and administrative offices, and offices for many student activities. The five-story library section provides a comfortable and spacious area for study and research.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Student Bar Association was organized in the spring of 1952 and is comprised of all students enrolled in the day and evening programs of the law school. It is governed under a constitution adopted by the students. Its purpose is to provide a means of closer unity among all students and to foster mutual cooperation and understanding between the law student body, the law faculty, and the legal profession. The Student Bar Association of Loyola is a member of the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association.

Membership dues in the Student Bar Association is $40 for all students payable to the Student Bar Association at registration of the freshman year but covering all three (four) years of law school.

In the fall of 1960, The Code, a law school newspaper was established under the auspices of the Student Bar Association. Participation is open to all students. It is dedicated to the reporting of law school news and providing a medium for the expression of student views.

Delta Theta Phi national legal fraternity has established a chapter at the School of Law, to which all law students are eligible for membership. The fraternity is devoted to the stimulation of interest in scholarship, organized legal research and writing, participation in appellate court competition and fellowship on the part of its members. It presents a scholarship key to each member in the top 15 per cent of the senior class and the top seven per cent of the junior class.

Loyola Association of Women Law Students, organized in 1972, promotes the full involvement of women students in the law school and in the community. The association sponsors speakers whose primary emphasis is on women in various phases of the law, plans an annual picnic for incoming freshmen as part of the orientation program, works to establish curriculum courses of interest to women, and provides tape recordings of national workshops on women and the law.

Phi Alpha Delta international legal fraternity has established a chapter at the School of Law to which any law student is eligible for membership. The fraternity's purpose is to serve the law student by stressing a proper blend of professional and social activity to prepare him for the practice of law, to serve the law school by supplementing the formal courses with an orientation program for first year students, lectures, inter-school moot court competition, and other preprofessional endeavors in order to fulfill its motto "Service to the Student, the Law School, and the Profession."

Phi Delta Phi international legal fraternity is the oldest legal fraternity in the United States. Phi Delta Phi has established its 99th Inn here at Loyola Law School, and members are selected from those of the student body who have completed at least one semester of study and have attained a minimum 2.0 grade point average. The inn's main purpose is to promote academic achievement and service to the students, while at the same time fostering the friendship that has become a hallmark of the Phi Delta Phi tradition.

St. Thomas More Law Club was established in 1935 by the students of the day program, and all law students are eligible for membership. The law club, under the patronage of the English martyr and saint, is devoted to the stimulation of interest in organized legal research on the part of its membership, and in the preparation and argument of mooted cases before appellate tribunals. It annually sponsors the Natural Law Institute.

A. P. Tureaud Society, established in 1969, is geared to recruiting and maintaining the enrollment of qualified minority students in the law school. Members of the organization recruit minority students from colleges and universities throughout the region. Tutorial services are also offered to help maintain the enrollment level of minority students. The society, open to all interested law students, maintains contact with related national organizations and other law schools throughout the country that support similar programs.

TUITION, FEES, AND FINANCIAL AID

All regular students are assessed tuition and fees on a semester basis.

These fees and the tuition pay for only about 60 percent of the actual cost of operating Loyola for one year. The other 40 percent is made up with funds raised by the Annual Support Program from alumni, friends, faculty and staff, WWL-AM-FM-TV employees, foundations, corporations, revenues from WWL, and a small university endowment.

Applicants for admission to Loyola and students who need assistance in paying for their education are encouraged to apply for financial aid. Applications for financial aid are included in the application packet. Additional forms may be obtained from the Financial Aid Office.

The above rates for meals are based upon costs for the 1978-79 academic year. Because of the uncertainty of the economy and budgetary projections, Loyola reserves the right to increase charges printed above.

BILLING AND PAYMENT POLICY

Students are mailed a bill for the tuition, fees, and room charges. First year students and all others who have not preregistered are mailed a bill soon after registering. Returning students who have preregistered receive a bill prior to registration.

Full payment must be received by the Student Finance Office no later than 30 days after classes begins. Students paying after this date will incur a late payment fee. If a bill is not received within three weeks, or if an adjustment should be made to the bill, the student should contact the Student Finance Office so that payment can be made by the 30 day deadline. Subsequent failure to pay in full will result in the assessment of additional penalty fees at the university's discretion. Students who have not satisfied all financial obligations have not officially completed registration and are subject to dismissal. Students whose checks are returned NSF also are subject to dismissal.

Loyola will withhold statements of honorable dismissal, grade reports, transcripts, the diploma, and all other reports or materials until all indebtedness to the university has been discharged or until satisfactory arrangements have been made with the Vice President for Business and Finance. No one will be allowed to enroll for subsequent semesters as long as prior financial indebtedness has not been satisfied.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Although Loyola has no monthly payment plan of its own, students may subscribe to one of two plans offered by outside companies.

The first plan is a deferred payment, revolving credit plan whereby the parent or student contracts with Tuition Plans, Inc. to finance all or a part of the annual expenses and repay the amount borrowed on a 12 month basis.

The second plan is a prepaid plan which enables the parent or student to budget payment of required charges before the school year begins. Payments begin five months prior to fall registration and continue for ten months. This plan is offered by Educational Funds, Inc.

Descriptive literature concerning these plans will be sent upon request to the Student Finance Office.

REFUND POLICY

TUITION — Students who withdraw from the university or from a course are entitled to a refund of a percentage of their tuition. Students who withdraw must return a completed withdrawal form to the Office of the Registrar. Mere cessation of attendance does not constitute withdrawal. The date of receipt of the withdrawal notice by the Registrar will determine the amount of tuition refund. Refunds are a percentage of the tuition payable in the semester in which the student withdraws, not a percentage of the total amount billed. Only tuition is refundable. No refunds are made when a student is suspended or dismissed for academic, disciplinary, or financial reasons. Tuition refunds are made on the following basis:

1. If formal notice is received within one week after the beginning of the semester a credit of 100 percent of tuition is made.
2. If formal notice is received within three weeks after the beginning of the semester a credit of 75 percent of tuition is made.
3. If formal notice is received within five weeks after the beginning of the semester a credit of 50 percent of tuition is made.
4. If formal notice is received within seven weeks after the beginning of the semester a credit of 25 percent of tuition is made.
5. No credit is allowed after the seventh week of classes.

Students forced to withdraw for medical reasons will be given a full tuition refund. A doctor's certificate must be presented to the Student Finance Office.

ROOM — Students who withdraw from the university for any reason are not entitled to any refund on the cost of their room.

MEALS — Students may receive a refund on the meal plan, prorated to the date of withdrawal. These refunds must be approved by the university food service.

FINANCIAL AID

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid provides information for and administers all aid programs on campus.

Loyola's scholarship and financial aid policy is to furnish recognition to the superior student and necessary assistance to the needy. The university attempts at all times to match ability with need. In all instances where need is indicated, Loyola will use all resources available to provide sufficient funds to allow the student to attend Loyola. In instances where there is little or no need demonstrated, Loyola attempts to reward academic achievement with appropriate scholarship awards.

KINDS OF FINANCIAL AID

There are three kinds of financial aid to law school students. They are 1) scholarships, 2) loans, and 3) jobs.

SCHOLARSHIPS are for superior students and are given for academic ability. All students are eligible for scholarships. The amount of money a scholarship pays varies greatly and may range from $500 to $2,000 annually.

In addition to the scholarships administered by the Financial Aid Office, the School of Law administers the following four scholarships.

Jack LaNasa Scholarships. This scholarship has been established in memory of Jack LaNasa, husband of Josie Greco LaNasa and brother of Providence Sara LaNasa. It is financed by an annual grant from the LaNasa-Greco Foundation and is awarded to a deserving student in the School of Law in need of financial assistance.

Judge Anna Judge Veters Levy Scholarship. This scholarship has been established by the Honorable and Mrs. S. Sanford Levy in memory of the late Judge Anna Judge Veters Levy through a grant from the Judge Anna Judge Veters Levy Foundation. The scholarship is to be awarded to an unmarried student on the basis of need.

Book Scholarship given by the Alexandria Bar Auxiliary. Awarded to a student from that area or one chosen by the dean.

Clem H. Sehrt Scholarship. This scholarship is in honor of one of Loyola Law School's most distinguished graduates. It is made possible through the generous contributions of his family and friends. The scholarship is awarded to an entering student on the basis of need, academic performance, and participation in undergraduate school activities.

LOANS differ greatly from scholarships and grants and mean just what the name implies. It is money that is loaned to a student and must be paid back. Repayment begins nine months after one leaves school. Approval of loans are based solely upon a student's need. Academic ability is only a minor consideration.

There are three kinds of loans.

The first is a campus-based federal loan. This loan program is administered on campus by the university. It can provide up to $1,200 per year. Interest on this loan is three percent. In some cases full repayment of the loan may be reduced through teaching.

The second is a federally insured loan handled through a bank. Upon the recommendation of a financial aid officer, a student selects a bank of his choice in which to apply for the loan. Because repayment of the loan is guaranteed by the federal government, it is easily available. It can provide up to $2,500 per year. Interest on this loan is seven percent.

The third is a state guaranteed loan. Such loans are available in most states, Louisiana included. The major restriction on state guaranteed loans is that the student must be a resident of the state which has a loan program. But a student may attend school in any state he desires. In Louisiana a law student may borrow up to $2,000 per year. Interest is seven percent.

All loans accrue interest and must be repaid. In the case of all of the three kinds of loans explained above, the government pays the interest accrued while the student is in school and for a period of nine months immediately after he leaves school. Payments on the principal and interest begin in the tenth month after a student graduates or ceases to be enrolled in school at least half time (six semester hours.) Except for hardship cases, the minimum payment is $30 per month with a ten year repayment period.

JOBS are self explanatory. There are two kinds of programs.

The first is the federally funded work-study program. Students are selected for work based solely upon need and work either 7½ or 15 hours per week on campus doing office or library work, research, or assisting professors.

The second is university funded student assistantships. Need is not always a factor in selection of students for work in this program.

MAKING APPLICATION

An application for financial aid is part of the application packet. Complete the application for admission first. Then complete the application for financial aid. Be careful as submission of inaccurate or false information will result in loss of all financial aid opportunities. A copy of the federal income tax return is required. Once submitted, the application for financial aid cannot be returned, but will be held in the strictest of confidence. Send scholarship and financial aid applications and supporting documentation to the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid. Preference is given to those who apply and are admitted before April 1.

An official response on your financial aid application is dependent upon the action taken on the application for admission. For this reason it is important to apply early and follow through in getting your back-up admission materials in. Loyola can supply you with an admissions decision soon after you apply and get all admission materials in.

When accepted, action is taken on your financial aid application. You can expect a response on your financial aid application within two weeks after you are accepted.

WHAT AID DOES ONE APPLY FOR?

There is no need to apply for any specific kind of scholarship or financial aid. In fact, application for a specific kind of assistance is discouraged.

The financial aid officer is knowledgeable by training and experience to give applicants the best and most assistance possible. Oftentimes this will include a combination of the different kinds of financial aid — scholarships, loans, and jobs. A typical financial aid package is made up of two or three kinds. Thus, it should be obvious that the financial aid officer is the best person for putting together an often complex, multi-assistance financial aid package.

STUDENT LIFE

Student Life at Loyola is based on the philosophy that education occurs in the context of total human development. Development of the whole person involves not only the intellectual development of the student but also the moral, social, cultural, and physical development of the individual. Programs and services exist which provide opportunities for this total educational experience.

ACADEMIC COUNSELING

For those law students who need advice and counseling about their law programs, the dean and associate dean are available. They will assist the student with problems he may encounter in scheduling and will discuss with him problems he may encounter in his academic career.

COUNSELING

The Counseling and Career Development Center administers a program of personal, educational, and vocational counseling and testing services to all registered students. It is intended to serve students who want and need professional assistance with career plans, academic goals, or with personal-emotional difficulties affecting their adjustment, motivation, and feelings. This service is offered on an individual and confidential basis.

SPIRITUAL LIFE

Loyola University is a Catholic Jesuit university. Toward this end, Campus Ministry strives for the complete integration of Catholic and Jesuit spiritually within the entire university community. Members of this staff strive for total availability and a person-centered rather than a project-centered ministry. They are available at all times to guide, counsel, and advise.

STUDENT HOUSING

Loyola operates two residence halls on campus, Biever Hall for men and women and Buddig Hall for women. Both residences were designed for and primarily house undergraduate students but law students are housed on a space available basis. Each year a small number of law students are housed on campus. There are no accommodations for married students on campus.

Biever Hall is a six story residence with a capacity of housing 410 men. It is centrally heated and air conditioned. All rooms are for double occupancy and are furnished with two closets, two single beds, two chests of drawers, two desks, and a telephone. When space permits, double rooms may be occupied as singles for an extra semester charge. Mail boxes, laundry facilities, study lounges, recreation and television rooms are located within the residence hall. Jesuit priests, living on each floor, are available for counseling.

Buddig Hall is a twelve story residence with a capacity of accommodating 429 women. Each suite houses four students in double rooms with a shared bath and individual heating and air-conditioning controls. Each room is furnished with basin vanities, two single beds, two desks, two closets, two chests of drawers, a bulletin board, and a telephone. A limited number of private rooms with baths are available. These single rooms are assigned to upperclassmen who have previously resided in the hall. Study rooms, laundry facilities, recreation rooms, mail boxes, and a community kitchen are located within the residence hall. Three women religious reside in Buddig Hall and are available for counseling.

Residents of both residence halls are subject to the housing policies which are promulgated in the Student Handbook. Supervision is provided by full-time resident directors and a staff of resident assistants in each hall.

Requests for accommodations should be forwarded directly to the Housing Office following receipt of acceptance. Reservations are confirmed only after receipt of a signed contract and a $50 housing deposit, which is not refundable in the event the student cancels. Housing contracts are for both the fall and spring semesters.

STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE

Loyola's health service is for both resident and nonresident, full-time and part-time students who have provided the health service with a completed medical history form. The health service is directed by a medical doctor and is staffed by a registered nurse, Monday thru Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Four days a week, a physician is available during designated hours to see students. Emergency evening, weekend, and holiday care is under the supervision of a licensed practical nurse who resides on campus. Health insurance is a requirement for all resident students whose permanent place of residence is outside the continental United States. Treatment by health center personnel is provided at no charge to the student. Medicines, referrals to off-campus medical specialists, laboratory tests, and hospitalization are at the student's expense. All services provided and communications with medical personnel are confidential as dictated by the medical code of ethics.

For good cause, the university may require a physical or psychiatric examination while a student is in attendance. Results of these examinations may be used to determine a student's suitability to continue in attendance at the university.

HEALTH INSURANCE

The university sponsored health insurance program covering sickness and accident is strongly recommended for all students, especially those students who are from out-of-town. Evening, weekend, and holiday emergency medical assistance is available from trained student health assistants who reside in Biever and Buddig Halls. The group plan covers a student for 12 months for a yearly premium. Plans for married students and their families are also available. Information and premium rates are sent to all students each summer by the insurance company. Those failing to receive health insurance information by mail may get details on it from the Student Health Service.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

Picture identification cards are made during the registration period. These cards are used for admittance to the Recreation Center, campus events, sometimes free or at reduced rates, and other activities.

Students must obtain these Loyola identification cards and have them on their persons at all times to present to university officials on demand. Loan of the card to anyone is prohibited. Use of another's card subjects the user, and the loaner, to a fine and/or disciplinary action. Lost or stolen cards must be reported immediately to the director of Campus Security. Replacement cards are $3. I.D. cards are for the full year of enrollment but must be validated at the beginning of each semester.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

There are approximately 77 student organizations recognized and active on the Loyola campus. They are classified in the following categories: club sports, social fraternities, honorary fraternities and organizations, professional and academic societies, religious organizations, service organizations, social sororities, special interest organizations, and student communications media. A complete listing of all recognized organizations is contained in the Student Handbook.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association consists of elected members representing the four colleges and the School of Law. The SGA acts as the voice of the student body to the university. Through this body, students act as members on most of the university committees in an effort to insure input in areas of student concern. The SGA sponsors programs and services as well as funding student organizations of the university. Meetings of the SGA are held once a week and are open to all students and members of the university community.

UNIVERSITY CENTER AND LOYOLA UNION

The University Center, known at Loyola as the Danna Center, and the Loyola Union are closely aligned in that the union is the governing body of the center.

Objectives established for Danna Center by the Loyola Union aim at making it a campus center where all members of the university can meet, formally and informally; providing services and facilities to the university; complimenting the educational goals of Loyola by providing cultural, social, and recreational programs; and maintaining the center as an open forum where all sides of issues may be aired.

The facilities of the Danna Center provide the environment for the Loyola Union, student government, and student organization activities. In addition to housing food service facilities, lounges, recreational areas, art gallery, Student Affairs offices, student organization offices, and a book store are located in the center.

RECREATION AND INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The Recreation and Intramural Sports program offers a comprehensive sports program, which provides students with opportunities for self-directed recreation, competitive sports, and leisure time activities in some form of physical exercise. The program of activities is designed to provide every student, regardless of ability, the occasion to participate in the program. The university also cooperates in the sponsorship of several club sports which compete with other universities and athletic organizations.

PLACEMENT PROGRAM

The School of Law provides a placement program to counsel and assist law students regarding professional opportunities. Main emphasis is placed on assisting law graduates in obtaining permanent positions after graduation, but summer internship programs and senior year clerkships are included.

CAMPUS SECURITY

Campus security provides routine security services to the campus on a 24 hour a day basis, throughout the year. In addition to these services, campus security provides for the registration of vehicles, the free registration of bicycles, the free use of engravers for marking of property, and the central location for all lost and found on the campus. Additionally, the security office conducts various awareness campaigns to prevent losses and informs the community of any problems which may arise. In addition to these routine services, campus security will attempt to assist the campus community in any problems which they may have.
